Applicant's amendment dated September 10, 2004, has been fully considered.

Applicant has submitted a Terminal Disclaimer and argued that would overcome all rejections in this application. It's agreed that terminal disclaimer overcomes the obviousness double patenting rejection, but not the 102(b) and 103 rejections. The Examiner of record does not understand how Applicant could possibly come up with an argument that terminal disclaimer would overcome the 102/103 rejections.

For the reasons set forth above, this Office Action has been made final.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 9-10, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. 4583368 (Neuenschwander).

Neuenschwander discloses a power plant comprising a frame (the whole apparatus), a water displacement means (pistons 26, 26a), a water collection means including cylinders 25, 25a and the pipes leading to hydraulic motor 16, electricity generating means (hydraulic motor 16) so that when one of the piston displaces, then the other cylinder is connected with a reservoir 10 on top to drive the motor.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13-14, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 4583368 (Neuenschwander). Neuenschwander discloses all the claimed subject matter as set forth above in the rejection of claim 9, but does not disclose windmill is used or more than one apparatus being used together. However, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to use different force input such as windmill in Neuenschwander for the purpose of achieving the same result in different environment such as under windy condition, and to use more than one power plant connected together for the purpose of multiplying the power output.

Claims 1-8 are allowed.

Claims 11-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
